

Introducing iBox BT LE

Low-Energy Bluetooth® takes the Supra iBox to a new level

Using your phone or tablet as your lockbox key has never been easier, because now more models than ever communicate directly with the newest member of the Supra iBox family: iBox BT LE. No additional hardware is required for most phones,* including the current models of iPhone®, iPad®, and iPod®.

All Supra keys communicate with the iBox keyboxes. Choose the eKEY® app for your phone or tablet, or the Supra ActiveKEY®. Your Supra key transmits data via Internet to Supra's Wireless Information Network, giving agents the decision-making advantages that only real-time information can provide.

iBox BT LE includes a large key container that can hold gate cards and keys. The shackle can be completely removed for easy handling when placing the iBox BT LE on the property.

With advanced on-board power that's sealed from the environment, and guaranteed to last for the life of the key box, you never need to spend time changing batteries. Rely on monitored access, long-life, and real-time data when you choose iBox BT LE.

*Certain older smartphone models may require the use of a key fob for communication with the iBox BT LE. You can check your phone's compatibility, and learn more about the Supra system, at www.supraekey.com.

Supra's Real-Time Wireless Information Network helps agents sell properties:

- A reliable system for securing keys during the real estate selling process
- Easy access for authorized keyholders
- Time-saving convenience

Our Winning Solution Provides:

- Notifications of showing activity via email, often while the showing is still in progress
- Feedback about the market's reaction to a listing
- Tools that keep clients up to date — email a customizable showing report that includes listing agent's photo and sent from a desktop or smartphone
- Ability to use SupraWEB to communicate price adjustments or status changes to agents who have shown listings
